Modular Furniture

Modular Workstations

45 & 60 mm Series

We excel at producing flexible, ergonomic, and durable solutions that optimize space and boost productivity for Modern Indian Offices.

In office workstations, 45mm and 60mm partitions refer to the thickness of the dividing panels, impacting aesthetics, acoustics, and cost.

45mm partitions are slimmer, offering a sleek, modern look and maximizing space. They provide moderate sound dampening, suitable for general office areas where some interaction is acceptable. They are generally more economical.

60mm partitions are more robust, offering superior sound insulation crucial for privacy and focus. While taking up slightly more space, their enhanced acoustic performance makes them ideal for executive areas or tasks requiring high concentration. They are a higher investment but provide better stability and noise reduction.

Office Pod Range

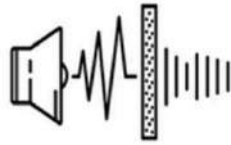

In today's evolving office landscape, the Office Pod (also known as an office booth, privacy pod, or acoustic booth) has emerged as an indispensable solution for creating focused and private spaces within open-plan environments. These self-contained, modular units address the inherent challenges of collaborative layouts, offering employees a much-needed retreat for concentration, confidential conversations, and quiet contemplation.

Niveeta is manufacturing Office Pods which are compact, enclosed structures designed to be placed within a larger office. These come in various sizes and configurations, ranging from single-person "phone booths" perfect for private calls and video conferences, to larger "meeting pods" capable of hosting small team discussions or brainstorming sessions. The defining characteristic is their acoustic performance, engineered to significantly reduce sound transmission both in and out of the unit.
